Dandelion Time
Restoring hope to young lives

Kent's charity for families fragmented by trauma, abuse and neglect.

Dandelion Time provides troubled families with an individually focused therapeutic undertaking. Given time and space in the natural environment, families can work together and discover through practical activities and engagement with committed therapeutic practitioners, ways to begin to restore trust, gain strength and establish new approaches to make sustainable change happen. Thank you for supporting Dandelion Time, all sponsorship raised goes directly to helping the children and their families.
